

JOURNAL OF ALGEBRA 133, 243 (1990)

Foreword

I. N. HERSTEIN
1923–1988

This special issue of the Journal of Algebra is dedicated to the memory of Yitz Herstein. Yitz was one of the original editors of the journal when it began in 1964 and served on the editorial board until a few months before his death. Thus this volume commemorates his long and dedicated service to the mathematical community as well as his own contributions to algebra, especially to ring theory.

I would like to thank Lance Small and Murray Schacher for serving with me as a Review Committee for this volume.
